Overview

This year's robot, "PHANTOM," showcases its autonomous capabilities, employing a suite of sensors and algorithms to independently execute most field tasks. This portfolio concentrates on the development of these autopilot functions, briefly touching on other aspects, with detailed discussions available in the annexes.